AMBER MAKES A CONQUEST

Linda Darnell, her amber hair rippling in hundreds of curls, demonstrates Amber's way with men in this scene with Richard Greene from "Forever Amber." This lavish production in Technicolor of Kathleen Winsor's fabulous best-seller which has been two years in the making at the Twentieth Century-Fox studios will be seen soon. More than 1,000 craftsmen worked to recreate for the screen the English scenes at the time of the Restoration which form the vast background for Amber's romances. Cornel Wilde and George Sanders shared starring honors with Miss Darnell and Mr. Greene and they were supported by a cast of 100 players and 4,000 extras.

First Aircraft Plant in Area Being Planned in E. Palo Alto

Construction will begin tomorrow with ground breaking ceremonies for the first 35,000 ft. section of United Helicopters' Palo Alto plant and home offices at the company's 61-acre site on Willow Rd., East Palo Alto, in the southern part of San Mateo County.

Local officials and the press will witness a short helicopter demonstration, including a crop dusting operation by one of United's experimental helicopters.

Stanley Hiller Jr., president of the Palo Alto firm, pointed out that production in the new plant will start early in 1948, with United's three-place industrial and agricultural helicopter. Production engineering has been completed, and prototypes of this helicopter are at present undergoing CAA certification.

Because of the wide immediate demand for vertical-lift aircraft in agriculture for crop dusting and seeding, United's first production helicopter has been designed for this application, as well as air mail, forestry and industrial uses, Mr. Hiller said.

The plans for the new plant were being delivered to the site by a United helicopter. Palo Alto's Mayor Byron Blois and chamber of commerce representative, Mr. L. Winterbotham, commented on the importance of this development for this area. United Helicopters Inc. is the only concern in the Bay Area manufacturing aircraft.

No Auto Injuries On County Roads

The unincorporated areas of San Mateo County were free of injury accidents this weekend for the first time this year, according to the California Highway Patrol.

Five accidents were reported in scattered parts of the county, but none of them was serious, and described by officers as generally only "fender bumps."

The CHP said that a lull also was recorded in drunk driving arrests, of which there usually are three of four during a weekend. In line with the accidents, there were no drunk driver arrests.

The quietest weekend in several months was reported Monday by both the San Carlos and Belmont police departments.

No accidents or drunk drivers were reported by either departments over the weekend.

Commented Sgt. George Seely of San Carlos, "Maybe it's the lull before the storm."

Oaklander Asks $20,325 in Suit

Thomas H. Carter, 19, of Oakland has filed suit in superior court for $20,325 damages as a result of an automobile accident in which he was injured on Aug. 30.

The suit was filed in young Carter's behalf by his father, Howard T. Carter, against Thomas Yorks, the owner of the car, and Feank M. Yorks, the driver.

The complaint alleges that the car and the motorcycle driven by the younger Carter collided at Fremont St. and Indian Ave., San Mateo. Carter suffered two fractures of his left leg and multiple cuts.

C of C Directors Vote Yule Funds

Plans for billboard advertising for Redwood City and a $3000 Christmas decoration budget were approved by the directors of the Redwood City Chamber of Commerce Monday night. The board agreed to enter into a contract for the billboards, provided that Redwood City Retailers would underwrite the cost.

E. W. Butler, executive vice president, outlined the Christmas season program and said an appeal for funds would be made this week.

Pres. John Ryan appointed Dir. Myron Harman to fill the unexpired term of Dir. Henry Maier, resigned. Harman previously had been appointed to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Dir. Walter (Bud) Kellogg, whose term expires this year. The new appointment will enable Harman to serve all of next year.

Council OKs Rezoning Compromise

Redwood City City Councilmen Monday night ordered City Atty. Cuthbert B. Currie to bring in legal papers which will effect a compromise on the S&W Fine Foods, Inc., rezoning problem, gave notice that it will conduct an election Dec. 30 to determine whether Kensington Square will be annexed, and served notice on property owners in Broadway No. 3 that it expects some $4900 to be repaid the city.

S&W had requested that a block it owns which is bounded by Middlefield Rd. and Manzanita and Heller Sts. be rezoned from second residential (multiple dwellings) to industrial. Property owners in the neighborhood claimed such a rezoning would ruin their homesites.

As a compromise the council decided to rezone the first 50 feet off Middlefield to commercial. The remainder of the block, except for aproximately 25 feet from the Manzanita curb will be rezoned to industrial. The 15-foot strip in from the property line along Manzanita will be left in second residential. This will have the effect of making S&W observe the same setbacks as other buildings on the street and leave the firm with a plot it can use for nothing but landscaping.

Objecting to the compromise last night were L. W. Whiteley, 419 Manzanita; Mrs. Albert Malvino, Middlefield and Manzanita northwest corner; and Fannie McVey. They claimed the commercial strip should be 100 feet deep rather than 50 feet deep. Councilmen said that would take so much from S&W that the firm would be unable to carry out plant expansion on the remainder.

Concerning the Kensington Square annexation, council:

1. Passed a resolution giving notices that it will hold the election and setting the date for a hearing as Nov. 17 and Dec. 30 as the date for the election.

2. Unofficially heard from Currie that the Berry Service Station, Alameda de las Pulgas and Jefferson Ave., will be the polling place for those living south of Jefferson in the tract and the home of Milton F. Bergst residence at 417 Upton St. will be the polling place for those north of Jefferson. Both spots were offered free of charge.

Election officials for the South Kensington area: Inspector Stephen M. Gaskill, and Judges Mrs. Frances F. Reeves and Elbert M. McNutt.

Election officials for the North Kensington area:

Inspector Mrs. Frances Bergst and Judges Mrs. Annie C. Jenkins and Mrs. Theresa Schulba.

All election officials will work free.

After dispensing with those two agenda items the council returned to a caucus session with property owners in Broadway No. 3.

Council had put up approximately $4900 for engineering work in the industrial tract, setting up an arrangement whereby owners would repay the city as they sold parts of the tract. These arrangements have never been made.

Mayor W. W. Hilton said councilmen last night met with owners and their attorney, Ernest Wilson. Council told the owners, he continued, that it was not interested in any particular method for recovering its money, but that it wanted it right away. Means of raising it was left up to the owners.

SC-Belmont Accidents Injure Three

Three persons were injured Wednesday in automobile accidents in the San Carlos-Belmont area.

Adrienne H. Barber, 39, 87 Northumberland St., and Gordon Walter Whitlow, 32, 2318 Cipriani Blvd., Belmont, were treated at Community Hospital Wednesday afternoon for cuts and bruises after being injured in a headon collision involving three cars at Ruth Ave. and El Camino Real, Belmont.

The accident occurred when a car driven by Louis Philippe Lenone, 61, 959 Jackling Dr., Burlingame, collided into the rear of the car driven by Whitlow, who was attempting to make a left turn off El Camino Real at the time, officers said.

The impact forced Whitlow's car into the southbound lane where it collided with a car driven by Max Barber, 39, 87 Northumberland St. Lenone's car skidded 94 feet, police said.

Mrs. Barber was a passenger in the car driven by her husband. The accident occurred at 5:55 p.m.

A 15-year-old San Carlos youth was taken to Community Hospital in an unconscious condition Tuesday afternoon after the motor scooter he was driving was involved in an accident on El Camino Real at the Brittan Ave. intersection, San Carlos police reported today.

The accident took place, police said, when the scooter, driven by Robert Burgess, 15, 1034 Walnut St., San Carlos, collided with a car driven by Chester A. Elliot, 52-year-old San Francisco union official who lives at 120 23rd Ave., San Mateo.

Elliot, who was making a left turn onto Brittan when the accident happened, took Burgess, who was unconscious, to the Community Hospital immediately following the accident, police said.

Foster Parent To Face Hearing

Chief Probate Officer John S. Cowgill Wednesday said that Mrs. Agnes Dosher of Woodside would be cited into juvenile court Monday to show cause why she should not be charged with contributing to the delinquency of a minor, her stepson, Denny, 15.

The boy Tuesday was taken to the juvenile home after he ran to neighbors and hysterically told them Mrs. Dosher had bitten him on his left forearm.

A petition to make the boy a court ward also will be heard Monday, Cowgill said. Denny's stepbrother, Larry, 7, also will be a ward, Cowgill said, but has been released to his parents and will be allowed to stay with them.

RC Resident Dies At UC-USC Tilt

Thomas Howard Clarke, 49, 173 Fulton St., died Saturday afternoon at the Berkeley Stadium while attending the University of California-USC football game. Mr. Clarke died at a stadium first aid station where he was taken after being stricken.

He was atending the game with his wife, Leah Clarke and his son, Thomas Howard Clarke Jr., a student at the University of California.

Mr. Clarke was an electrical engineer and was employed by the Pacific Gas and Electric Co. He was a native of Silverton, Colo., and had lived in Redwood City for the past 22 years.

Besides his widow and son, Mr. Clarke leaves his father, Thomas H. Clarke of Delta, Colo., and a brother, Dewey H. Clarke of Manteca.

Mr. Clarke was a member of Boulder Lodge 45, AF&AM of Boulder, Colo., the Pacific Coast Electrical Assn., and Pacific Service Employes Assn.

Says Foster Mother Bit Him on Forearm

Probation officers Tuesday filed a petition to make a ward of the court a Sequoia High School freshman who claimed Monday night he was severely bitten on his left arm by his foster mother.

The boy, Denny Dosher, was held at the juvenile home, as was his step-brother, Larry, 7, who was removed from his parents' Woodside home Monday night by the officers.

Chief Probation Officer John S. Cowgill said that another petition, to make the younger boy a court ward, also has been filed, and both are to be heard Monday by Judge Aylett R. Cotton.

The woman who Denny claims to have done the biting, Mrs. Agnes Dosher, 28, of Woodside Glen, was interrogated at the probation office this morning, as was her husband, Dennett, a San Francisco lithographer.

Cowgill said that she did not deny biting the boy.

Dep. Probation Officer Walter Busher said that Denny appeared in a hysterical condition Monday at the home of a friend in Woodside. The friend's parents called Fire Chief John Volpiano, who notified the sheriff's office.

The boy's story, according to Busher, is that his foster mother over a period of time has made veiled threats against him, urging him to leave home.

Mrs. Dosher arrived home Monday evening in an apparently intoxicated condition, Busher said, and told the boy to go. When he refused, a scuffle ensued, during which Denny was bitten.

The boy also claims, Busher declared that two other persons were present at the time and aided in ejecting him.

The officers Tuesday were checking the truth of the boy's story.

Busher said that Denny was obtained as a baby from a West Virginia orphanage by Dosher and his first wife, but that legal adoption papers never had been secured. The couple has lived in Woodside for several years, and Dosher works at night.

Busher declared that Dosher previously had been in touch with county welfare authorities about placing the younger boy, who is the couple's natural son, in a foster home. The welfare authorities handled the matter on a counseling basis, Busher said, but no placement was made.

P.A. Hospital Manager Dies

James Philip, for the past 11 years manager of the Palo Alto Hospital, died suddenly about 10 o'clock Sunday night. The cause of death was believed to have been a heart attack.

Mr. Philip had been a Palo Alto resident for the past 25 years, and had been connected with the hospital since 1930, when he joined the staff as accountant. Under his direction the hospital has grown from a 60 bed to a 195-bed capacity institution, with more than 200 employes on its regular staff.

Mate Drops Suit Against Peaches

Joseph S. Civelli, manager of a San Francisco department store and a Hillsborough socialite, Tuesday dismissed without prejudice his suit in San Mateo County Superior Court for divorce from Frances B. (Peaches) Browning Civelli.

He had charged that his wife had fraudulently secured a divorce from him in Reno Feb. 1, 1946. She subsequently married Ralph Willson, scion of a prominent meat packing family, on Apr. 22, 1946. The Willsons later were divorced.

PCA Elects Ten Directors

Election of Peninsula Celebration Assn. officers for the coming fiscal year was postponed last night at a city hall session because Ole Oleson, nominating committee chairman, could not be present.

The group, however, elected these directors for three-year terms:

Ted Hopkins, Francis Britschgi, Abe Jacobs, Thelma Eberhardt, Dolores Bozzo, George Itsen, Joseph Dematteis, Robert Genochio, Louis and John Rolfa.

In the future the association will hold its meetings in Foresters Hall.

Probation Group Seeks Home Name

The San Mateo County Probation Committee is looking for a name for the new juvenile home which is being built west of Belmont.

To get a name, the committee is asking residents to mail their suggestions to the committee.

Those who wish to submit suggestions should keep in mind the traditional background of the county, Chief Probation Officer John S. Cowgill said.

"This new juvenile home is practically the first of its kind in the state, and as such represents a new philosophy in juvenile detention institutions," Cowgill stated.

"It is not a 'blockhouse' where children are locked in cells for punishment. It will be in the nature of a diagnostic center for delinquent children and parents who are in the last analysis emotionally unstable and 'sick' individuals."

Salinas Man Hurt In RC Accident

A cut on a forehead and a bruised left knee which were suffered by Ray Fenech, 33, 111 Valencia St., Salinas, were the only automobile accident injuries listed in San Mateo County last weekend.

Fenech was injured Saturday at 5:59 p.m. on Bayshore Hwy. 1000 feet north of Chestnut St. in Redwood City.

Merchants Urged To Aid Yule Fete

Letters were placed in the mails this week requesting financial aid from merchants in the erection of this season's Christmas decorations, E. W. (Ned) Butler, chamber of commerce manager, announced Wednesday.

W. Keith Cole is general chairman of the Yule committee. John Ball has been appointed chairman of the committee specifically in charge of decorations. B. B. Berman will head the committee in charge of the Yule parade and children's party.

In charge of finances are Abe Jacobs and John Beyerstedt, while Chet Wilson is in charge of erecting the Nativity scene on the Central School grounds.

JOHN BALL

Decorative lights will go on Dec. 11, the same day the parade will be held.

The children's party is set for Dec. 13, a Saturday.

The 1946 decorations, Butler continued, will be supplemented with new materials and the entire business area will be covered. Additional figures will also be added to the Nativity scene.

A traveling float will be constructed which will carry a live Santa Claus and will visit nearby communities declaring that "Santa Claus is in Redwood City."

The letters, Butler said, will request the $3000 necessary to carry out the plans.

The city government will hang the Yule lights as its donation to the festivities, Butler continued.

The firm of Cattich Bros. & Stevenson will build the Nativity scene and the float with the Holmquist Hardware Co. providing a jeep and other equipment for Santa Claus.

Roof Fire Hits Main St. Home

A roof fire, started from chimney sparks, did $150 worth of damage to a home owned by Carrie Reis at Main and Pine Sts. Monday at 10:34 a.m.

Firemen put out the flames before it could destroy the frame structure.

Occupants of the house are Carrie Reis and her two sons, Paul and Henry, and John Kirwan and Seganti Ray.

Belmont to Get Mail Deliveries

House-to-house mail delivery in Belmont will probably begin about the first of next year, James F. Furlong Jr., postmaster of Belmont, announced today.

Furlong said that carrier service for Belmont has been recommended in a letter forwarded to Washington, D. C., by Thomas Evans, local postal inspector. Furlong quoted Evans as saying that the recommendation would probably be carried out and house-to-house delivery set up by Jan. 1 of next year.

Furlong has been active in campaigning for carrier service for several years, and when he was appointed to the postmastership last July, announced that he would try to get such service for Belmont.

When he announced that he intended to resign last month, he said that he had completed a survey for carrier service.

NMB History Told in Article

"Steel," one of the leading trade journals in the metals manufacturing industry, published the story of National Motor Bearing Co. in its Oct. 13 issue.

The magazine gave this birdseye picture of the plant: National Motor Bearing Corp., which today makes oil seals but no bearings, was founded Jan. 2, 1921, by Pres. Lloyd A. Johnson when he and one helper set up a shop to rebabbitt bearings. His initial investment was $1200.

"Next, he bought two punch presses for $1500 to make an improved type of laminated shim. Display cases were fitted out with 37 sizes of shims and sold to garages at $45 each. On a tour across the country in 1925, he tackled Chevrolet and landed his first large order.

"The story is then told about the way Mr. Johnson got into the oil seal business about 1930. He cut apart a seal for a Model A Ford and decided it could be improved. Shortly thereafter, he bought the basic patents for a seal for $1700 and went into production. Today, the company has plants in Redwood City and Vernon, Calif., and Van Wert, O. Assets are placed at $4,500,000."

YMCA Set For Program

Plans for the annual Halloween program sponsored by the Sequoia YMCA Friday night are rapidly going ahead and a program is being mapped out, according to "Y" Executive Secy. Kenneth Osman. The committee in charge of arrangements for the event will meet tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock to work out final details.

In addition to the entertainment at McKinley School at 8 o'clock, the committee has announced a costume parade for all boys and girls of the community beginning at 7:15 p.m. at Central School and proceeding to the YMCA building, where judging will be made of contestants entering the various costumed categories.

Three places will be chosen in the funniest costumes, best-dressed costumes and most original costumes. Also, prizes will be awarded to the best dressed couple. The parade will be led by the McKinley School drum and bugle corps.

At McKinley School the winners of the prizes will be introduced and the prizes awarded. After this an hour and a half of entertainment will be staged with B. B. Berman as the master of ceremonies. Headlining this program will be the "Screwball Professor" and his magic act.

The committee will be rendered assistance in the supervision of the parade by the police department and members of the Optimist Club. Other civic groups are assisting in the program with the contribution of prizes for the winners of the costume parade. Matinee theater tickets will be given to winners of the various costume classifications.

The YMCA committee in charge of the program is comprised of Earl Whitaker, the Rev. Walter B. Smith, John S. Cowgill and J. S. N. Bebb.

Aeschbach's Wife Seeks Divorce

Mrs. Beatrice K. Aeschbach of San Mateo filed suit in superior court for divorce, charging her husband, George C. Aeschbach, former county health department statistician, with extreme cruelty.

Another suit was filed on last Jan. 3, on the same grounds, by Mrs. Aeschbach, but it was dropped on Mar. 5.

Aeschbach several years ago was the object of a nationwide search when he and a health department clerk disappeared. They were later found in New Jersey. No divorce was sought then.

Mr. and Mrs. Aeschbach were married in San Benito County on May 6, 1938, and separated on Oct. 14. They have one daughter, Georgia, 8.

Mrs. Aeschbach is seeking the support of the daughter and a reasonable amount for maintenance.

Woodside Bonds Voted by 6 to 1

In what was described by election officials as a surprisingly heavy vote for a special election, voters in the Greersburg School Dist. Tuesday approved a $60,000 school bond issue by a margin of 157-26.

Of approximately 400 registered voters, 183, or 45.6 per cent went to the polls at the Woodside School. The bonds won by a six to one majority.

The bond issue is to provide funds for the construction of a two classroom annex to the Woodside school, the purchase of adjoining lands, and the improvement of recreation facilities.

The proposed improvements are part of a 20 year master plan which calls for a 10 classroom school with a gymnasium and auditorium.

Willow Signals To Be Provided

Funds for traffic signals at Willow Rd. and Bayshore Highway in North Palo Alto have been provided by the San Mateo County Board of Supervisors and the State Division of Highways, and actual installation awaits the arrival of material, according to M. A. Grant, county engineer.

Grant reports that the supervisors have set aside $4000 for the estimated $12,000 project and that the state has approved paying the remainder. Installation is expected within the next few months.

William J. Gowans, 409 Laurel St., was spokesman for a North Palo Alto group which obtained a survey of the intersection last May and asked for installation of the stop lights.

Rains Aided SM County, Report Says

The latest "epidemic" of rainfall in San Mateo County is doing more good than harm, according to a Tribune survey.

No damage from the rains has been reported in this area.

Farmers were welcoming the rain with open arms. Some of the large chrysanthemums already have been cut and others were protected from the rain, the agricultural commissioner's office reported. Smaller chrysanthemums are able to take the rain.

The rainfall in Redwood City is approximately 2½ inches above that of this time last season. Rainfall for the season Wednesday morning had reached 2.76 inches, compared to .42 inch at the same time last year, the weather bureau at Fire Station 2 reported.

Rainfall last night was .21 inch. Rainfall yesterday was .17 inch.

The weatherman predicts showers for the remainder of the day today and tonight and rain tomorrow. There will be little temperature change, with fresh southerly wind, according to the weatherman.

Police Seek Burglar In Hardware Store Raid

Police Monday were searching for the burglar or burglars who made off with $100 from the Hull Bros. Hardware Store, Main St. and Broadway, over the weekend.

Police Lt. S. D. Wood said entry had been gained by means of a forced skylight and that the funds were taken from a cash box.

Horton Addresses Baptist Group

G. R. (Bob) Horton, who recently returned from the mission field in Burma, Monday night told members of Baptist Brotherhood at a dinner meeting at the First Baptist Church what the war did to Burma and what is being done to rebuild it.

Forty-seven men from the Brotherhood heard the talk and saw motion pictures of Horton's travels, as did 17 girls of the World Wide Guild.

Horton was with the American Baptist Foreign Mission Society in Burma from 1939 until the invasion by the Japanese in 1942. He went back 20 months ago and did agricultural work for the United States government. Horton did some survey work in South India before returning to Burma.

He reported that bandits and robbers have thrown a scare into the people of Burma and that the government so far has not been able to control the thievery.

Will Rogers of San Carlos presented a charter to Cub Pack 40 sponsored by the Brotherhood. James Whipple led games, Charles Heidel led singing and Wayne MacAdam gave the devotional. Pres. Chet E. Wilson presided.

Mountain View Man Fined in Theft Case

Robert Kennedy 25, Rt. 1, Box 125, Middlefield Rd., Mountain View, was fined $50 Tuesday by Police Judge W. H. Thorpe after he had pleaded guilty to a charge of petty theft.

He had been arrested Oct. 22 on a warrant issued to J. A. Keating, Montgomery Ward and Co. manager, charging that the store employe took approximately $4 from a store till, Thorpe said.

De Limur Summons Serving Plan Fails

An attempt to serve the former Ethel Crocker and her husband, Count Andre De Limur, with a summons for their son, Charles, in the Sailor divorce case failed Wednesday.

Superior Judge Edmund Scott turned down the request by Adron Beene, attorney for Charles Sailor, and by Graham (I Spy) Moulton, the private detective who in vain has been keeping his famous eye peeled for young De Limur.

Sailor has named Charles De Limur co-respondent in the divorce suit he has brought against his wife, Patricia, blonde Menlo Park socialite aspirant.

Moulton, in an affidavit, testified that he has searched high and wide for De Limur but has been unable to trace him since he disappeared on June 12. Moulton, gazing into his crystal ball, said he believes young De Limur has flown to France.

He asked that he be permitted to serve the summons on the parents at their Crocker state home, Newplace.

Seek Racing Aides For Probationers

A couple of men who want to see the races at Bay Meadows and be paid for doing it can have the job if they apply to the San Mateo County Probation Office.

The men will get $10 a day each, but of course they are going to have to do some work, Chief Probation Officer John S. Cowgill said Tuesday.

Cowgill said that the men are needed to see that youthful jockeys attend the school which is conducted at the race track, and also to ride herd on other kids. The job will last for about six weeks.

Los Gatos Woman Held in Theft Case

Mrs. Laura May Britton, 53, of Los Gatos, was held at the county jail Tuesday in lieu of $1000 bail on a charge of grand theft.

She is accused of having taken a fur coat and miscellaneous articles valued at $1100 from the home of Jack Huessman, Pedro Point, where she was visiting.

Shooting Probe Moves to Arizona

Two San Mateo County officers left Wednesday for Safford, Ariz., to check details of a story given them by Mrs. Jadwiga Curtin, 20-year-old Polish war bride held at the county jail on a charge of robbery.

Dep. Sheriff Milton Minehan and Frank Marlowe, criminal investigator in the district attorney's office, are to confer with Sheriff Skeet Bowman at Safford in an effort to trace the past life of the girl, who also is held for investigation in the slaying of George Conner, Palo Alto.

Mrs. Curtin is charged only with the robbery of a Stanford student and is to appear for preliminary hearing Nov. 4 before South San Francisco Judge S. K. Robbins. She is held in lieu of $5000 bail, and officers indicated that a manslaughter or murder charge in Conner's death would be filed if an attempt is made to post bail for her.

Forum Letter

To the Editor:

I am sure there is no question but that the children are entitled to their fun on "their night"—Halloween. We who are older well remember the fun we had, and we want our children to enjoy themselves. But there are limits to this "fun" which is rapidly becoming a racket, and in turn a nuisance. I refer to the "trick or treat," which is becoming popular.

No one objects to passing out a little trick to youngsters. However, last year to my knowledge, and perhaps there were many other instances, the children were accompanied by the mothers, who waited outside "holding the bag," and telling the children where to go next. In other instances cake, cookies, doughnuts, apples, etc., were thrown into the street after a bite or two had been taken.

Even if there were no need for the conservation of food, such waste is scarcely excusable at any time. But now, with children overseas starving, with our President asking us to carefully conserve on food, should our children — who, thank God, have never known the real meaning of hunger—be permitted to waste good food in this fashion? Palo Alto is to be commended on the plan being adopted there.

Rather than encourage what is rapidly becoming a racket, how much better to teach our children to appreciate the blessings they enjoy so bountifully here in America, in contrast to the millions in Europe who face suffering as well as starvation this winter unless we do our part to help them. "Inasmuch as ye have done it unto the least of these . . . ye have done it unto Me."

Charles Serveau Leaves Hospital

Charles Serveau, 47-year-old Redwood City resident who has been staging a winning battle against leukemia, has been released from Community Hospital but doctors say that he will need about a pint of blood a week for the rest of his life.

Dr. Harold Marks, hospital superintendent, said that Serveau has been given 30 transfusions, or a total of 15 quarts of blood. The average person has about five quarts of blood, Dr. Marks said, so that Serveau has received the equivalent of all the blood from three persons.

Serveau, who was stricken early this year, had been in Community Hospital for more than four months. He will have to make periodic visits to the hospital for the transfusions, Dr. Marks declared.

Leukemia attacks the red blood corpuscles and unless the body is supplemented by additional blood the patient will die.

The transfusions had depleted the hospital's blood supply and Dr. Marks earlier had issued a public appeal for blood donors. He said today that any person wishing may donate blood to Serveau in his name at the San Mateo blood bank.

P.A. Landmark Damaged by Blaze

Palo Alto firemen fought for two hours Saturday night before they brought under control flames which partially destroyed a 57-year-old, two-story frame building at 455 High St., a landmark in the downtown business district.

The alarm was turned in by an unidentified person at 8:48 p.m. and a few minutes later firemen sent out a call for aid from the South Palo Alto station. Twenty firemen and five pieces of equipment were able to confine the blaze to one building.

Heavy smoke hampered the firefighters until a skylight and the front doors were knocked in to allow a draft to clear the building. Fireman Harry Hansen was badly cut on the left hand by an axe.

Cause of the fire has not been determined. Fire Chief Louis Ledford said Monday morning he believes it began on the floor near the front of the building.

Total damage by the fire may run to $6350. Damage to equipment of the Peninsula Venetian Blind Laundry housed in the building is estimated at $6000. The building, owned by Lawrence T. Broren, Frederick Ave., Atherton, has been assessed at $1350.

Bldg. Insp. John Schwafel is checking the structure and is expected to announce late this afternoon whether the building will be condemned.

The venetian blind laundry, owned by James A. Bristow, is maintaining offices in an undestroyed portion of the building until new quarters can be found. Real estate office of Myrtle Moore, also in the building, received only water damage.

The structure was originally built on Emerson St. by J. F. Parkinson in May, 1893. It was moved a few months later to University Ave. where it served as Parkinson's Hardware store. In November, 1899, it was moved to its present location on High St. where it was used as a plumbing shop.

First meetings of the volunteer fire department were held in the store's upstairs hall. The building also housed the telephone office for a few months and served as a meeting place for church and civic groups.

Carpenter Fined In Drunk Hearing

Edmond Reynolds, 42, of 730 Barren Ave., Redwood City, a carpenter forman for the contractors working on Monroe School, Redwood City, has been sentenced to 10 days in the county jail on a drunk driving charge.

Reynolds has been convicted on the same charge in San Francisco in 1942.

Municipal Judge Francis W. Murphy of San Mateo also suspended his driver's license for six months Peter Sorensen, contractor, Reynolds' employer, had requested the judge for lenience or for disciplinary action on weekends declaring that Reynolds was essential to completion of his school contract on time.

Reynolds was arrested on Bayshore Highway Oct. 15.

SC Electrical Company Shows Huge Postwar Gains

It is no secret that many industrial concerns had a great deal of financial success during the war years. The government needed a lot of material in a hurry, and contracts were freely negotiated. But few firms attained success without war contracts.

The Lenkurt Electric Co., now housed in its new San Carlos plant, is an exception, however, because it received war contracts valued at not more than $750,000; at its wartime peak it had only 18 employes. Yet today, it has more than 130 highly skilled workers and technicians on its payroll.

The company manufactures telephone and telegraph carrier equipment that transmits several messages at once over a single wire by converting voice-frequency waves into higher frequencies; at the other end of the line they are converted back into voice-frequency again. Their product accounts for great savings made by independent telephone companies, railroads, oil pipe lines, and other concerns employing communications systems. A third of Lenkurt's output is exported.

The story of Lenkurt is a typical Horatio Alger success story. Len Erickson, 33, and Kurt Appert, 35, were graduated from San Francisco high schools during the early depression-ridden '30s. About the only asset they had was ambition; they met while taking night school radio engineering courses.

They formed a partnership with Frank I. DuFrane and struggled along on small jobs. They patented their own inter-office communications systems, only to find that the big manufacturers wouldn't scrap tools and change designs. They decided to manufacture the equipment themselves, and they had a small measure of success. After they put in the communications system in San Francisco's Union Square Garage, they were on the way to success.

By 1940 they were able to move to larger quarters, and at times their business was as high as $10,000 per month. Then came the war, and, after a lean period, a few government contracts. It was during the war that they made their first carrier equipment.

In 1944 they founded Lenkurt; DuFrane left the partnership when war orders started to dwindle, but the two young men decided there was a future in making carrier equipment. They considered their infant firm to be not worth more than $8,000. Now, three years later, they have a beautiful new plant and a $1 million a year, world-wide business.

They chose the Peninsula for their future operations because it offered a convenient location and plenty of room for expansion, according to Erickson—and also because of the ideal living conditions in surrounding communities for the company's ever-growing personnel.

HALT FIRE THREAT

Redwood City firemen were called to 639 Adams St. Tuesday at 3:33 p.m. when electric wires on a garage started arcing.

Chief Joe Lodi said firemen cut the wires preventing any chance of a fire.

McMonigle Again Seeking Freedom

The persistent Thomas H. McMonigle, formerly of San Mateo but presently in San Quentin Prison's death row, has written another letter to the State Supreme Court.

The convicted slayer of 12-year-old Thora Chamberlain of Campbell requested that the court telephone Warden Clinton Duffy immediately upon its reaching a decision on findings by Superior Judge Samuel L. Finley of Del Norte County who recently concluded a special hearing of McMonigle's case.

"I am under judgment to suffer death in the lethal gas chamber Dec. 19," McMonigle wrote, "because of the time element I am forced to call upon your kindness to inform me of the decision . . . before the coming of Dec. 19."

McMonigle is seeking a new trial. Because the Supreme Court's decision would not be valid until 30 days after issuing, McMonigle asked prompt notification of the decision so that he can "file other actions" if a new trial is denied.

McMonigle was convicted in Santa Cruz County of the murder of the Chamberlain girl Nov. 2, 1945. The State Supreme Court denied his appeal but the federal courts held that alleged new evidence produced by McMonigle should be passed upon. The Supreme Court then appointed Judge Finley to conduct special hearings. They were concluded Sept. 29.

It's Hallowe'en, witches ride through the air and hobgoblins stalk the streets! It's a ghastly night—with spirits abroad. Everyone knows though, that the hostess who serves eat treats casts the kind of spell that keeps guests in the best of spirits. Safeway has the things you'll need for a successful Hallowe'en party... at money-saving prices too!

Use an apple theme for Hallowe'en

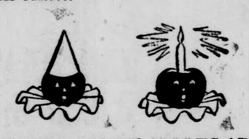
by Carol Drake

BOBBING FOR SHINY RED APPLES has been a part of Hallowe'en celebrations since Medieval days. It's still fun—whether the apples float in water or dangle from a string in a doorway. Our Colonial ancestors added this amusing bit to the custom—still good today. The successful bobber peels his apple 'round and 'round in one piece. Then, swinging the peeling around his head three times, he tosses it over his shoulder chanting:

"By this paring let me discover
The initial letter of my true lover."

MODERN MISSES COUNT APPLE SEEDS to determine marital fortune, much as English girls used to do. "One I love, two I love, three I love, I say, Four I love with all my heart: Five I cast away. Six he loves, seven she loves, eight, they both love. Nine they tarry, ten they marry, eleven they quarrel, twelve they part, thirteen she dies of a broken heart."

APPLE JACK O'LANTERNS CERTAINLY ARE A FAVOR—they're edible! Cut faces in apples; sprinkle with lemon juice so they won't discolor. Or use paper cut outs—eyes and grinning mouths—on the apples. Place each on a ruffled crepe paper collar, top with a paper cup dunce cap or insert a small candle.



CARAMEL CANDY APPLES ARE A JIFFY JOB. Melt 1 pound light-colored caramels in ½ cup evaporated milk over hot water. Stick wooden skewers or picnic forks in stem ends of washed and dried apples. Plunge apples into the caramel mixture so it covers them, twirl twice or thrice; place upside down on waxed paper to harden. They're extra good rolled in toasted coconut or chopped nuts before they harden. One pound of caramels coats 12 medium-size apples.

M-M-M MINCEMEAT IN BAKED APPLES! Two tablespoons tucked in the middle will surprise the "gobbleuns" in your family.

Carol Drake Director
The Homemakers' Bureau
An Extra Safeway Service

P.S. PLANT AN APPLE TREE FOR THE "TRICK OR TREAT" CROWD. Put a healthy-sized branch in a bucket of sand and tie apples to it. When the "spooks" arrive on the porch saying "soap or eats" they can help themselves to apple treats.
